

SOMERSET BAY

The colors of a life well lived.

Somerset Bay's handcrafted casegoods interpret antiques and classic styles in new ways, and its hand-painted finishes add layers of depth, character and patina.

In four years, Somerset Bay has grown from a small selection of occasional pieces into a complete lifestyle collection with furnishings for the living room, dining room and bedroom. Nearly 150 items are available in a selection of 16 beautiful painted finishes with deliciously descriptive names, such as Key Lime Pie, Cotton Candy, Gelato, Roasted Marshmallow, Crème Brûlée, Cherry Cobbler, Apricot Tart, Blueberry Crisp and Jelly Bean Green.

The beauty of Somerset Bay furnishings comes both in their design and in their versatility.

Westhampton Chest

This petite chest is perfect as an end table or a nightstand. French in style, the chest is full of movement along the apron, legs and drawer fronts. The finish is Cotton Candy.

Indian Key Chest

The Indian Key Chest features exquisite hand-painted moldings and insets on the drawer fronts, side panels and apron. The chest, shown here finished in Crème Brûlée with Blueberry Crisp, can be customized in any of Somerset Bay's 16 complementary hand-painted finishes.

Because of their classic designs, Somerset Bay pieces integrate well alongside antiques and other fine furnishings, injecting a spark of color and freshness. However, Somerset Bay furnishings can just as easily fill a room, with various colors and styles mingling together to create a restful retreat.

Each piece from Somerset Bay is handcrafted from the finest plantation-grown mahogany and premium veneers and trim. The finishes are accomplished through techniques including distressing, dry brushing and antiquing. A closer inspection will reveal drawers constructed of renewable, plantation-grown mahogany and made with traditional dovetail joints.

Aspen Blanket Chest

This traditionally styled blanket chest delivers style and storage. The layered, rub-through finish (shown here in Cotton Candy), careful distressing and the antiqued hardware give this chest the look of a treasured heirloom. Somerset Bay's craftsmanship ensures that it will be for many generations.

Case Neddick End Table

True beauty is quite often found in simplicity. Such is the case with the 36-inch round end table, shown in Blueberry Crisp. This vivid blue, richly patinaed piece is like dessert for the room. It finishes it and makes it memorable.

Harker's Island Serpentine Chest

The clean lines of the Harker's Island Serpentine Chest contrast with just a hint of movement on the drawer fronts and apron. Traditional details include a pullout slide and antiqued ring pulls. The finish is Cotton Candy.

Blueberry Crisp and Cotton Candy ~ so many shades of blue

Somerset Bay's color palette includes an array of hues – greens, yellows, blues, red and neutrals such as toasty browns and warm whites – 16 in total. However, the number of custom looks available is much greater than that as Somerset Bay's artists employ different techniques to spotlight the character and design of each piece.

For instance, Somerset Bay offers two different blue finishes – the vibrant Blueberry Crisp and the robin's egg Cotton Candy. By accenting these finishes with complementary colors and varying the level of distressing and antiquing on each piece, Somerset Bay's craftsman create a number of unique looks.

The photographs here showcase Somerset Bay's beautiful use of blue, one of the most calming, restful and versatile hues on the color wheel.

McClellansville Bookcase

This unique bookcase, inspired by an antique and reproduced for modern purposes, provides ample space for displaying books or collectibles on its four tiered shelves. Five drawers along the bottom add both visual interest and additional storage space. The finish is Cotton Candy.

Bald Head Console

Named for the beautiful North Carolina coastal retreat of Bald Head Island, this console table showcases the fine craftsmanship that characterizes Somerset Bay furnishings. The dry brushed Cotton Candy finish highlights the turnings on the table's legs and stretchers, giving the table a warm, timeworn appearance.

Biddeford Huntboard

Almost Shaker in style, the Biddeford Huntboard wears the patina of a hand-painted antique. The drawer fronts, adorned in simple antique hardware, display distressing along their edges. The huntboard, available in any of Somerset Bay's 16 finishes, is shown here in Cotton Candy.
